"I have been amazed and appalled upon returning home," Air Vice-Marshal Collishaw said in a statement issued today, "to learn that the men and women who organized Canada's magnificent war effort should be subjected to unwarranted and unworthy abuse and condemnation."

Irish Times Says World Sees De Valera In First-Class Blunder

DUBLIN (CP)—The Irish Times said today that Premier de Valera of Eire was diplomatically correct in expressing condolences to the German minister on Hitler's reported death, but "from the broader point of view of Ireland's relations with the victorious powers it was a first-class blunder."

The newspaper, however, took issue with Prime Minister Churchill's Sunday speech criticizing Eire's stand in the war.

Mr. de Valera will broadcast Wednesday at 11.10 p.m. (2.10 p.m., P.D.T.), when he may reply to the British leader.

Chiding Mr. Churchill, the Irish Times said it was "an open secret that the Irish army throughout the war worked in fairly close co-operation with the British general staff."

"We have an uneasy feeling that possibly he (Mr. Churchill) went just a little too far," the

Most Canadian Army Equipment Planned To Be Left In Europe

By ROSS MUNRO

WITH THE 1st CANADIAN ARMY (CP)—Practically all Canadian army equipment will be left in Europe, it was learned here today.

Troops returning home will take over personal kit with them and may not even carry back rifles and other small arms. Equipment such as artillery, trucks and cars will be sent to turn-in depots at Antwerp and Hamburg. This turn-in program starts with medium guns and as the troops leave Holland to return to Canada vehicles will be turned in gradually.

It is not definitely known what will be the final disposition of Canadian equipment, although it is believed some will be used to arm the re-formed Belgian and Dutch forces and those of other liberated countries. Some also is earmarked for China.

The Canadian Far East force will get new U.S. equipment when it is concentrated on the Canadian or U.S. west coast.

Churchill, Truman Both Hoping For Big 3 Meeting

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill said today he hoped to confer soon with Marshal Stalin and President Truman.

Asked in House of Commons whether a conference was contemplated in "the near future," he said: "I devoutly hope so. It would be very odd if such a long, fierce war ended without any settlement even among the victors."

Mr. Churchill made no reply when one member suggested London as the site for the next tri-power meeting.

(In Washington today President Truman also said he hoped to meet soon with Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin to discuss the future peace program.)

(The President told reporters he had discussed such a meeting with Foreign Minister Eden Monday, but that no definite decision had been made.)

Answering another question in the House, Mr. Churchill said no formal victory parade and celebrations would be held in Britain until Japan is defeated.

Asked if it was probable the surrender of Japan would be celebrated between now and Christmas, the Prime Minister replied: "We would all do justice to it."

The Prime Minister refused to commit himself definitely on the question of whether Hitler is dead.

Asked whether the death had been established "beyond all shadow of doubt," Mr. Churchill said he knew no more "than any other member who reads the newspapers."

"There I have only my own opinion to go by," he said. "What is that?" a member shouted.

"I really do not feel that any particular duty lies upon me to make guesses," the Prime Minister replied. "When we have anything particular, I shall be quite ready to announce it. In the meantime I must say I incline to the general opinion."

At another point, Mr. Churchill was asked whether Hitler was being hidden by Premier de Valera's Eire government, and drew laughter with the remark that he would have "inquiries made on that."

Sharp protests against the attitude of Mr. de Valera's government arose in the House. One member suggested the government move for arrest of the German legation staff in Dublin with the view of trying them as war criminals.

Faces Police Court

VIDKUN QUISLING

OSLO (AP)—Crown Prince Olav, who returned to Oslo Sunday, has directed that Vidkun Quisling, puppet premier of Norway during the German occupation, be tried as an ordinary criminal, it was learned.

The Crown Prince was reported to have issued his order in his capacity as Norway's highest justice official.

Quisling will appear before a police court for a preliminary hearing.

Only official visitors have been permitted entry to Quisling's cell and Police President Henrik Meyer has directed that no favors shall be granted the Norwegian Nazi chieftain.

Quisling's Russian wife, Maria, is being held at the Grini concentration camp, where Quisling had interned all his political enemies. She is under close surveillance.

Doenitz Status Under Challenge May Be Cleared

FLENSBURG, Germany (AP)—British security police and intelligence officers, acting on rumors submitted by Danish underground organizers, are making a search for Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler in the Flensburg area.

Germans also have been advised to watch for Himmler. It is believed Himmler and his reported bodyguard of several hundred fanatical S.S. men might have come to Flensburg because the heavily-wooded area and numerous small islands provide excellent cover. The region also is close to the Danish, Swedish and Norwegian borders.

Rumors have circulated that Himmler recently got in touch with Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz, successor to Hitler; Field Marshal Ernst Busch, last commander in the north, and the rest still are in Flensburg, near the Danish frontier.

Pending an announcement which is expected to clear up the situation, headquarters are reluctant to comment on steps being taken there.

But it seemed an obvious conclusion that the next step would be:

1. Either to abolish any form of German government other than an Allied military regime until conditions are right to set up a council of control, or

2. Take over the Flensburg government, direct it completely and build on it as a basic structure.

In the first case, probably no action would be taken until the surrendered German army was disposed of, its arms and ammunition collected and its personnel placed in camps under its own officers, but under Allied supervision.

That is believed hearing completion.

In the second case, action might be taken immediately by moving into Flensburg, taking the present surrender government into custody and setting up a military government.

In either case, moves are expected soon.

Experienced Observer of War Says 3 Enemies Faced In Germany

This story, reporting on conditions in Germany and sizing up the job ahead of the occupation armies, was written by a veteran Associated Press correspondent who has seen the effects of war in Russia, Poland, Italy and France.

By DANIEL DE LUCE
WITH U.S. OCCUPATION FORCES ON THE RHINE (AP)
Three great enemies face the conqueror on German soil—hunger, disease and the repugnant spirit of a warlike race.

In sharing the task of occupation with other Allied powers, the United States indefinitely has committed armies totaling approximately 400,000 men.

Long-term occupation is regarded as a necessity by some high American officers. "If we don't want another war in 20 years,"

In touring by jeep hundreds of miles from the shell-pocked frontier zone where the first American Military Government was set up last September to the green heartland where the enemy surrender came this month, a German of razor-sharp contrasts and blunt contradictions is bared. Rural life is almost normal. In the cities and towns there is paralysis if not chaos.

A vast stretch of the left bank of the Rhine is marked off with barbed wire behind which lies the equipment of two German armies. On the other side, German families picnic daily, looking at the scene across the river as though it were a light-hearted comedy.

Beuel and Bendorf are towns 30 miles apart. In the former, 12 members of the Nazi party have been working in the municipal government but are being fired. In the latter, an estimated 1,000 Communists who survived 14 years of Hitlerism, are becoming active.

All day long, beside the broad highways traveled by the hosts of the U.S. army vehicles, German children smile and wave at the passing men in khaki. Some make the "V" sign.

BOY, 12, ARRESTED
At Losheim, a boy of 12 was arrested for burying a pistol, ammunition and a bust of Hitler in his backyard.
Cologne and Essen are twin monuments of rubble to Allied air power. The inhabitants hopefully sprinkle grass seeds on heaps of debris—if the grass grows it will keep down the summer dust.

Yet streetcars are running again in Essen and the Krupp family interests are scheming how to get back to producing steel. Cologne manufacturers are clamoring to reopen their repaired factories.

I have seen the devastation of war in Russia and Poland, Italy and France. The physical destruction in western Germany is not impressive. It is spectacular in numerous cases, but it is not the tearing out of a nation's vitals which the Ukraine, for example, endured.

Pioneer Passes

Richard Henry Smiley, Chemist, died Monday in his 77th year after a lengthy illness.

Born in Milltown, N.B., Mr. Smiley had been at all times active in community affairs. He was for 15 years a councillor for North Cowichan; a school trustee eight years, and more than 30 years a member of the Chemists' Hospital board. Last year he was honored by the Knights of Pythias in celebration of 50 years' membership.
His widow survives him.

Dublin Suffers Severe Headache After V-E Day

Written for The Canadian Press By F.L.T. Red Farah, R.C.A.P.
LONDON—Dublin, Eire capital, was an Irish stew of mixed and conflicting passions for three days following the announcement last week of Germany's surrender.

I arrived in Dublin Monday night, following an unofficial peace report, and one of the first things I saw was a gaily defiant parade of Trinity College students along Grafton Street, a main avenue.

They were celebrating victory and it was the shenanigans by these high-spirited schoolboys, many of whom were from Northern Ireland and other places outside Eire, that provoked demonstrations in the neutral capital. The students hung the Union Jack from a window of the college, a school of 1,200 students, and the British flag from the roof of the building and tore down the flag.

In a large downtown restaurant Monday evening, many pro-Ally parties booked tables to celebrate one triumph. British, French and U.S. national anthems were sung, but some patrons remained sitting silent throughout.

Anti-British passers-by outside, hearing "God Save the King" being sung, tried to force their way in and shouted abuse at the celebrants. Doormen and waiters held them out. Later some crashed through the plate glass front. No one was hurt.

No reports of serious injuries were received. The diarist in the Irish Times commented, however, that undoubtedly many people woke up half alive and wished they were dead. Stocks of strong drink in Dublin were ample for both factions.

The disturbances spread Monday night to the British representative's office and to the U.S. Consulate, where windows were broken.

Tuesday and Wednesday nights I saw expectant, curious crowds massing about College Green, but Dublin police seemed to have the situation under control.

Kennedy Did Not Consult A.P. Chiefs

NEW YORK (CP)—The Associated Press said that Edward Kennedy, AP war correspondent whose accreditation at Supreme Headquarters was revoked Monday on a charge of breach of confidence in breaking prematurely the story of the signing of the German surrender, had sent the following statement to New York:

"The decision to send the news that Germany had surrendered was made wholly by myself without consultation with the New York office of the Associated Press. I sent the fact of the surrender to the Associated Press without explanation of the conditions under which I was sending it."

Lift Restrictions On Bus Routes

OTTAWA (CP)—Munitions Minister Howe announced Monday night that the transit controller's restrictions on the schedules and routes of bus operation had been removed to help meet the steadily growing demand for public transportation.

"Operators will be able to resume routes and schedules previously restricted, and to extend their routes to areas inadequately served, subject, of course, to provincial regulations," said Mr. Howe.

The relaxations were in line with a policy begun last July, when the 50-mile limit on bus operation was removed, the Minister said.

Mormon President Grant Dies at 88

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Heber J. Grant, 88-year-old president of the Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) Church, died Monday night at the family home where he had been under treatment several weeks. That he was seriously ill was disclosed by church authorities only Monday.

Death was attributed to causes incident to old age.

Grant, a native of Salt Lake City, was elevated to the Mormon presidency in 1918. The council of Twelve Apostles becomes governing body of the church and the council president, George Albert Smith, 75, becomes acting head of the entire church. The council will choose the new president later.

All seven presidents of the church, since it was founded by Joseph Smith, were elevated from head of the council, but the practice is not mandatory under Mormon procedure.

Make Germans Provide For Victims' Comfort

WITH BRITISH FORCES IN GERMANY (Reuters)—The British military government has ordered every German man, woman and child in the Lueneburg province of north Germany to provide a complete suit of clothing for former prisoners of the Belsen "horror" camp, and also games, knitting materials and other welfare material. A similar levy is to be made throughout the west German province of Westphalia.

Challenge Status Of C.C.F. Kootenay Federal Candidate

TRAIL, B.C. (CP)—Harold Van Oene, secretary of the Trail C.C.F. Club, said at a public meeting here Monday night that Frank Tracy, official C.C.F. candidate for the Commons in Kootenay West, has been a member of the party for less than a month.

Mr. Van Oene made his statement while Harold Winch, C.C.F. leader in the British Columbia Legislature, was addressing the meeting.

Mr. Van Oene declared he had definite information from the secretary of the Nakusp Club that Mr. Tracy had not been signed for membership in that club prior to April 15. Mr. Van Oene contended the C.C.F. constitution requires that candidates be party members of two years' standing.

Mr. Winch replied he was not prepared to speak on C.C.F. constitutional matters, but he was certain Tracy had held a membership card for "all this year" and that the provincial executive made sure of its ground.

Mr. Winch in his address referred to Herbert W. Herridge, who decided to run in Kootenay West despite decision of the party's provincial executive and the provincial convention that it was against party policy to resign as an M.L.A. to contest a federal election.

C.N.R. to Welcome Its Returned Men

MONTREAL—Something more than merely carrying out the letter of the law will be practised by the Canadian National Railways in reinstating employees returning from war service, according to a letter sent by R. C. Vaughan, chairman and president, to vice-presidents and heads of departments.

More than 1,800 Canadian National employees have reported back to work on their discharge from the armed forces and have been re-established. Mr. Vaughan said they represented only about 8 per cent of the employees who have been granted leave of absence to serve with the forces.

In common with all employers in Canada, the Canadian National, he said, "has certain very definite legal obligations to its employees returning from war services. It will not be enough merely to carry out the letter of the enactments, something more is required. We must make sure that each individual is given a hearty welcome back to our ranks and more to feel the genuineness of a friendly greeting, not only from his former employee associates, but from the management. The aim should be to put the returning employee completely at his ease and to assure him that the company intends to do the utmost for his welfare. Every assistance must be given the individual to readjust himself to peacetime conditions."

Made up of representative and experienced officers, a civil re-establishment committee has been set up at system headquarters to give guidance and, in some cases, official direction with respect to procedure. Special attention will be given to employees physically unfit to resume their former occupations. On the advice of the chief medical officer of the railway, they may be given other work, or they may be granted leave of absence for a prescribed period.

Mr. Vaughan appealed to all officers to "take a keen personal interest in the matter—to the end that the reputation of the Canadian National, in connection with this vital aspect of Canada's war effort, shall be second to none."

New Publicity Head
For War Assets Corp.

OTTAWA (CP)—Col. Frank X. Jennings of St. John, N.B., director of army relations for the last two years, will retire to civilian status shortly at his own request and will become director of public relations and advertising for the War Assets Corporation, Defence Headquarters announced.

Col. Jennings will be stationed in Montreal and will succeed G. H. Lash, who has been recalled by the Canadian National Railways, from which he has been on loan to the War Assets Corporation since last September. Col. Jennings' successor has not yet been appointed.

Hope Given Up For 5 Men in Mine; Pit Being Flooded

LUSCAR, Alta. (CP)—John Crawford, chief Alberta inspector of mines, and A. N. Scott, general manager of the Luscar Coal Company, announced today attempts to rescue five men trapped more than 6,000 feet down in the Luscar No. 1 mine, had been abandoned and that flooding operations now were under way.

Two other men lost their lives in the explosion Saturday which trapped the five miners. Thwarted repeatedly by explosions in attempts to reach the men, rescue crews were called back Monday. Mr. Crawford said flooding operations were started Monday when the pumps were shut off.

It will take nearly a month to flood the mine and avert the danger of fires spreading, Mr. Crawford said.

Hopes for getting the five men out alive were shattered Monday night when Mr. Crawford said it had been decided "for the time being" to abandon rescue attempts and that the men "could not possibly have survived the original explosion."

It was felt that for the rescuers to stay longer in the mine would be to court further loss of life, Inspector Crawford said.

Bodies of the other two men had been recovered.

8 Weeks 'Solitary' For Duncan Navy Man Held By Nazis

By DOUGLAS AMARON

LONDON (CP)—Survivors of H.M.C.S. Athabaskan have returned to a friendly port from prison camps in northern Germany, where they were held since the destroyer was torpedoed in the English Channel, April 29, 1944, off Fierge Island, not far from the Brest Peninsula. Some came from Luebeck, but the majority arrived from Marlag naval prison, between Bremen and Hamburg, where all were held until the Germans evacuated the camp a month ago. The Marlag party of 44 escaped the march to Luebeck by hiding from the guards, and boasted they were Canada's underground navy.

The Canadians knew Marlag was being evacuated, and for several days before the move, kept in or near hiding places, determined not to let the guards master them. They dug underground, hid on rafters of buildings, escaped through trap doors, hid under floors, and even cramped themselves for hours in lockers.

BRIBED GUARDS

Lieut. Robin Hayward, R.C.N., of Duncan, B.C., said officers and ratings were separated in Marlag camp, and the only way he could make contact with the men was by bribing the guards.

"I saw them only five times after we were captured," he said, "but I knew they were making out all right. I got eight weeks' solitary confinement, and they grumbled me constantly. I just refused to answer questions. I was in a stone house so dark and dingy it would drive anyone mad. I made the mistake of asking them why they hated Jews, and got a five-hour lecture on the question."

Supply P.O. Sam Wilcock of Vancouver had the toughest time of all. He got merchant navy prisoners who were not being evacuated to cover him with pieces of wood in a locker, and stayed cooped up there hour after hour.

He spent one full night in the locker.

On the Luebeck march, the men walked about 10 miles the first day, and during the next eight days covered about 60 miles, with two days off for rest.

The Athabaskan was hit early in the morning of April 29, 1944. German destroyers and minesweepers and motor boats picked up the survivors after they had been in the water 3½ hours.

Sailor, Soldier Freed

Bdr. Henry A. Slater, missing after Dieppe, whose brother, Joseph, lives at 3965 Quadra Street, and AB. John Laidler, 24, R.C.N.V.R., taken prisoner following sinking of Athabaskan, have been freed from internment in Germany and are now reported safe in England.

Born in Winnipeg, Slater resided in Victoria for 18 years before enlistment and attended Colwood and Sidney schools. He enlisted with the artillery in 1930.

Today's WAR NEWS Analysis

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Foreign News Analyst

A lot of folk on the Allied home fronts will breathe easier as the result of Gen. Eisenhower's blunt announcement that he regrets instances in which senior United States officers treated captured Nazi and German officials on a "friendly enemy" basis in dire violation of his orders, and that he has taken drastic measures to "assure termination of these errors forthwith."

The Allied press is making it amply clear that we want no coddling of the enemy. We tried it with the Kaiser's gang a generation ago and paid the awful price. Now we want the scalps not only of Nazi officials but of the German military command, all of whom are guilty of war crimes.

There is no such thing as a "friendly enemy" in the Allied lexicon of this war. One of the main Allied objectives has been the extermination of Nazism. But the thing doesn't stop there. We also have had as a prime aim the destruction of Prussian militarism, which has been the main-spring of aggression in Europe for generations.

Every one of the German high command is part of this Prussian machine, and it is no use for the generals to try to hide behind the excuse that they are merely soldiers and have been taking orders from Hitler. They are playing the "friendly enemy" part for all it's worth as they surrender, but that doesn't fit in with the statement of Messrs. Churchill, Roosevelt and Stalin after the Yalta Conference earlier this year.

"It is our inflexible purpose to destroy German militarism and Nazism . . . (and to) break up for all time the German general staff that has repeatedly contrived the resurgence of German militarism."

That is what we have been fighting for. And that's why sections of the British press are demanding that Grand Admiral Doenitz, and German generals claiming authority in parts of the Reich, be thrown into concentration camps. It is not safe to leave these professional war-mongers free—now or after the return to normal times. They must in some way be "liquidated" from the life of Germany, or they will start their devilry again.

To Speak at Trials

PAUL REYNAUD

PARIS (AP)—Paul Reynaud, last free Premier of France, is demanding Marshal Petain and Gen. Maxime Weygand be brought to trial in order to bring out "the whole truth of France's capitulation to the Germans."

"I am here to give witness against Petain," he said. "Everybody would like to know the facts of 1940," the former Premier said in an interview, "and I am willing to bring them forth."

He asserted the trial would be valuable because Marshal Petain and Gen. Weygand were heroes of the First Great War and many people are loyal to them. "Why didn't the Government

All Canadians Except Those In Occupation Force Home By Yule

By ROSS MUNRO

WITH THE 1ST CANADIAN ARMY (CP)—All Canadian troops in Holland and Germany, except the Canadian occupation force of 25,000 men and 15,000 reinforcements, are expected to be in the Dominion by Christmas.

This was learned Monday, along with these other facts:

1. Canada will be represented in the joint Allied occupation of Berlin by a brigade group which will leave shortly and remain about a month.
2. Gen. Crerar, who led the 1st Canadian Army to Victory, will retire from the army after he returns to Canada, probably in August.
3. The Canadian Far East Force will be organized on American lines, will use United States equipment and will serve with the U.S. forces. Announcement of the commander may be made before long, although a definite choice is not believed made as yet.
4. Commander of the Canadian occupation force is expected to be named in a few days.
5. By a system of cross-posting

Hon. Ian Mackenzie Would Bar Japanese From Coastal Areas

KAMLOOPS, B.C. (CP)—Japanese should never again be allowed in the coastal areas of British Columbia, Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of Veterans' Affairs, said here Monday night in the opening of the campaign to re-elect T. J. O'Neill, Liberal candidate for the Commons in Kamloops.

"If the rest of Canada want them they can have them, but I would bar them completely from British Columbia," said Mr. Mackenzie.

For a country of less than 12,000,000 people, Canada's war record has been outstanding, said the minister, as he told of the country's war production record.

He praised the Canadian people for their financial effort. Today the national debt is owed to 60 per cent of the people, he said. "Before the war 26 per cent was owed outside. Today only 3 per cent is held outside the Dominion."

Philosophy Prof. At U.B.C. Resigns

VANCOUVER (CP)—Professor John Allan Irving has resigned, effective July 1, as head of the department of philosophy and psychology at the University of British Columbia, the president's office announced Monday night.

Prof. Irving will leave for Victoria College, Toronto, to take up the position of professor and head of the department of ethics and social psychology.

He came to the U.B.C. in 1938 as professor, and in 1940 was made acting head of the department of philosophy and psychology. In 1941 he was made head of the department.

A successor has not yet been appointed.

Get Pay Increase

VANCOUVER (CP)—Charles Stewart, business agent of Division 101, Street Railwaymen's Union (A.F.L.), announced Monday that 75 Pacific Stage bus drivers who staged a two-day strike in April against a regional War Labor Board wage decision have been granted a pay boost by the board.

The R.W.L.B. granted the men a 4½ cent an hour wage increase retroactive to March 1, 1945. The total boost increases wages from 79 cents to 85 cents an hour.

Candidates for June 11 Total 965 Record for Canadian Elections

By the Canadian Press

A record 965 candidates prepared today for the final stages of a political campaign which will win House of Commons seats for 245 of their number in the June 11 Dominion general election, in which three major parties are bidding for national support for their postwar reconstruction and victory-over-Japan policies.

A national compilation by the Canadian Press showed that 948 men and 17 women officially entered the election race before nominations closed at 2 p.m., local time, Monday. It is the largest field in the political history of Canada, exceeding by 73 the previous high of 872 in the 1935 election and by 293 the previous entry list of 672 in 1940.

235 LIBERALS

Three parties nominated more than 200 candidates for the 245 House seats. The Liberal government party of Prime Minister King leads with 235 candidates, contesting 234 seats and not contesting 11—seven in Quebec, two in Ontario, one in British Columbia and the single Yukon seat, where its candidate failed to file his papers in time. In one constituency—Ottawa East—two candidates gave their political designation as Liberal.

The C.C.F., led by M. J. Coldwell, is making its first nationwide bid for power with 205 candidates in the field. It has a candidate in every riding in all but three provinces—Quebec, where it is contesting 28 of the 65 seats, New Brunswick, where it has eight candidates for 10 seats, and Ontario, where it lacks by one the full complement of 82.

John Bracken, former Premier of Manitoba, heads a list of 204 Progressive Conservative candidates. Of the 41 seats it is not contesting 36 are in Quebec, two in Saskatchewan and one each in New Brunswick, Alberta and British Columbia.

The Social Credit Party, whose national leader, Solon Low, made a last-minute entry into the race in Peace River, Alberta, rounding out a total of 94 candidates. It is contesting all 17 Alberta seats and ranks second to the Liberals among the organized groups in Quebec with 42 candidates.

The Labor-Progressive Party, led by Tim Buck, has 70 candidates. One of these is Mrs. Dörise Nielsen, who represented North Battleford in the last House as a Unity member.

There are five other women among the Labor-Progressive candidates. The C.C.F. has six women in the field, the Progressive Conservatives two, Social Credit two and the Liberals one.

SERVICE CANDIDATES

There are 77 men who served in the present war among the candidates. They range in rank from an army private to a general—Defence Minister McNaughton seeking election as a Liberal in Qu'Appelle, Sask., from a navy stoker to a lieutenant-commander and from an air force sergeant to an air vice-marshal. Ontario leads in service candidates with 24, but Manitoba has the largest proportion with 13 for its 17 seats.

The biggest political scramble developed in Quebec, where 294 candidates were nominated—58 Liberals, 29 Progressive Conservatives, 28 C.C.F., 42 Social Credit, seven Labor-Progressives and 130 others, who include 72 straight Independents and 35 Bloc Populaire candidates.

Although Quebec has the largest number of nominees, both British Columbia and Alberta have a higher average number of candidates per seat. The Quebec average, with 294 seeking election to 65 seats, is 4.52. British Columbia, with 76 candidates for 16

Russians Killed Or Captured Total Of 12,770,000 Germans

LONDON (CP)—The Red Army has slain or captured 12,770,000 enemy troops in almost four years of war on the eastern front, according to the latest totals announced by Moscow today.

More than 1,230,000 Nazis have been taken prisoner since Germany's unconditional surrender, the Soviet Information Bureau said. The figure included 101 generals.

The announcement did not say whether the Russians had captured Field Marshal Ferdinand Schoerner or Col. Gen. Otto Woelcher, commanders of the troops in Czechoslovakia and northern Austria who fought on despite the Nazi capitulation.

Monday's round-up of 140,000 Germans brought to 3,030,000 the total killed or captured since the Red Army launched its spring offensive Jan. 12.

The average of 4.75 per seat, and Alberta's 82 candidates for 17 seats provide an average of 4.82.

LIBERAL POLICIES will create post-war OPPORTUNITIES for ALL

YOUR Liberal Government under Mackenzie King has taken practical steps to see that every Canadian after the war shall have a wide-open chance to make a real success of his life. It can be done by giving everybody the opportunity to get ahead faster and go further.

That includes returned men, farmers and fishermen, factory workers and people in business and children—every Canadian!

Isn't that what you want—a chance to make your own way IN your own way?

Here are definite, practical steps which the Liberal Government has taken (not just talked about, but taken) to make this Canada a better place to work in and bring up your children.

You will have to decide whether you want the men who devised these measures to carry them through, or whether you wish to entrust your own and your family's future to others.

Every one of the following 12 steps affects your job—no matter what it is—after the war!

1 Reconstruction

Liberal aim: Jobs for 900,000 more workers than in 1939; and 60,000 more each year as the population grows. Every kind of enterprise will be encouraged. The Liberal Government has already set up the machinery: the Department of Reconstruction. The Liberal Government has the man—the Hon. C. D. Howe—under whose direction Canadians have done a great job in the war, and are ready to do it in peace.

2 Foreign Trade

Liberal objective: Sixty percent (60%) increase in value over Canada's pre-war export trade. This means thousands of jobs, and is based on the number of jobs created by Canada's normal export trade. Preparations are under way now: expansion of trade commissioner service; negotiations with United States and United Kingdom and other countries. Liberal policies and trade mean full employment.

3 Credit for Enterprise

Liberal belief: Money must serve the needs of humanity. The people of Canada shall have economic freedom. We are a great people—we are going to continue to do big things after the war. Therefore the Liberal Government set up the Industrial Development Bank to provide money at low interest for long terms. Another step towards creating full employment.

4 Exports Encouraged

War-torn countries will want to buy tremendous quantities of Canadian goods. But can they pay for them right away? Manufacturers can't pay their help unless they can get money for their goods. To overcome this obstacle to employment, the Liberal Government has set up the Export Credit Insurance Act. This does two things: (1) it insures Canadian exporters against loss, and (2) makes loans to foreign governments under contract to Canadian exporters.

5 Farm Improvement Loans

Your Liberal Government has made low interest loans available to farmers to finance their work and make improvements.

6 Guaranteed Markets

To provide farmers with a better income under wartime conditions, the Liberal Government made contracts for definite quantities of important products at agreed prices—notably bacon, eggs, cheese and beef. These contracts have worked out so well the Liberal Government extended many of the agreements for longer periods (in the above cases to the end of 1946). It has provided for guaranteed markets and income for Canadian farmers. This increased trade has brought prosperity to farmers everywhere in Canada. Liberal legislation (the Agricultural Prices Support Act) guarantees future prosperity.

7 Family Allowances

From July next, Family Allowances are to be paid every month to parents for healthier, better clothed, better housed, better educated young Canadians. $250,000,000 a year direct spending power in the hands of people who need it most. Liberal monthly payments until age 16 (maximum total per child $1,324) will give all children a better chance to become vigorous happy citizens.

8 New Homes for Canadians

The Liberal Government's new $400,000,000 National Housing Act enables hundreds of thousands of Canadians to own their own homes. In the first year after Germany's defeat, at least 50,000 dwellings will be built. Low rental housing schemes are included. This means hundreds of thousands of jobs for the building trades and allied industries—many thousands more for people who make furnishings and home equipment.

9 Returning Veterans

Canada's generous plans for enabling returned men to take their place in civil life are now well known. Gratuities, benefits and grants of $750,000,000 will enable men and women of the Armed Services to apply their energies in building the prosperous Canada for which your Liberal Government has been planning.

10 Floor Prices under Fish and Farm Products

Success in farming and fishing depends upon the maintenance of fair prices. To protect farmers and fishermen, the Liberal Government has provided floor prices under these products. Prosperous farmers and fishermen make a prosperous Canada.

11 Better Labour Conditions

In co-operation with organized Labour, the Liberal Government has confirmed collective bargaining, provided unemployment insurance, organized labour-management committees, approved labour representatives on government boards. More than 600,000 workers, because of the Liberal Government's attitude towards Labour and the labour movement, now get annual vacations with pay.

12 Reduction in Taxation

The Liberal Government will gradually reduce taxation now the European war is over. Taxes will come down to free spending power and to give Canadians every opportunity for prosperity, employment and freedom.

What you have done in war—you can do in peace. You can do your part by supporting the Liberal Candidate in your constituency.

IN ITALIAN HANDS

THE COMPLETE LIBERATION OF Italy poses problems which can only be finally settled by the peace terms imposed upon her. She has a provisional government and this government is functioning to the best of its ability under conditions which are difficult to appreciate by those who have but small knowledge of the differences which exist among the Italian people themselves.
These differences are now accentuated by Italy's liberation, through which the north is brought into direct relation once more with the south.

Moreover Italy's relations with Yugoslavia constitute the dynamite in the final settlement. Yugoslavia may claim Trieste by conquest, Italy claims Trieste by historic association with that former Austrian port on the Adriatic. Trieste is directly across the Gulf of Venice at the head of the Adriatic and the province of Giulia in which Trieste is situated, forms a natural geographical boundary to Yugoslavia, being in the shape of a peninsula jutting into the Adriatic and flanking the Italian province of Venetia. On the eastern side of this peninsula directly across from Trieste is the port of Fiume, of which the poet D'Annunzio took possession against the clauses of the Treaty of Versailles and the Covenant of the League of Nations. Self-determination was the cry in the oilment of peace after the last war; but drawing deductions from previous experience, it is unlikely to be exercised for a long time after peace is finally made for Italy.

In fact for a considerable time to come the peace to be imposed on Italy may be held in abeyance, until her government is permanently established again on the firm foundations of Italian unity. What was achieved in the past by Mazzini, Garibaldi, and Cavour can be accomplished again, if the Italians can once get their feet firmly established on the road to economic recovery and political sanity. If the free determination of the people in a form of government best suited to their necessities of the present can be attained, and the self-determination of their geographical boundaries can be restrained by a common-sense appreciation of their relations with their neighbors, they will quickly recuperate from the disease of Fascism, which was largely based on the slogans of the past to achieve a fancied glory in the future.

Their freedom has been restored to them mainly through the efforts of the very nations they helped to deprive of freedom.
France, Spain, Greece, Yugoslavia, Albania,
all have much to forgive. And in the area of the Mediterranean it seems exceedingly difficult to forget. But they are part of a great Latin block and if they can lead the way domestically in the creation of a real spirit of good will instead of in the tradition of the vendetta, the roads opened by their great patriots of the last century should not be hard to follow.

Their destiny lies in their own hands.

PROPHECY AND HOPE

IT MAY BE DIFFICULT FOR CANAdians, with clear, tragic memories of the deprivations of U-boat wolf packs, to follow
the recommendation of Prime Minister Churchill to forget bitterness against Elre in the memory of the shining heroism of southern Irishmen who played so gallant a part in the forces of the United Nations. It may be hard for such Canadians to forget the difficulties of combatting the undersea menace compounded by Eamon de Valera's hostile neutrality which handicapped protection of the sea lanes bringing food, materials of war and Canadian men of the forces to the European theatre. But if Mr.
Churchill can banish that bitterness with the solvent provided by the record of many Irishmen of valor, it should not be impossible for people of the Dominion to follow a similar course. To the Canadian born, at least, there will be less of the tradition of ill-will and misfortune which has marked the uneasy relationships which have existed between the older countries. But they will have more than an academic interest in what Mr. de Valera may say tomorrow to the Dail.

For Mr. Churchill, the position was more aggravated. There was restraint in his words:

"Owing to the action of Mr. de Valera . . . the approaches which the southern Irish ports and airfields could so easily have guarded were closed by the hostile aircraft and U-boats. This was indeed a deadly moment in our life, and if it had not been for the loyalty and friendship of northern Ireland, we should have been forced to come to close quarters with Mr. de Valera or perish forever from the earth."

That was a condition he had foreseen and on which he had placed himself on record. Speaking on the Elre Bill, on May 5, 1933, he set forth his position unequivocally. Said he, in part:

"I am not going to argue, although it should not be excluded, that these ports will fall into the hands of an enemy power. . . . But it seems to me that the danger which has to be considered, and which ought not to be excluded, is that Ireland might be neutral."

Mr. Churchill saw the future quite clearly on that day in May seven years ago. He pointed to the dangers entailed in the loss of all concessions in the strategic Irish ports, in the event of renewed U-boat warfare. It was natural that he should mention last Sunday, with some pride, the restraint and poise with which the British government had declined to lay violent hands on the southern Irish authorities.

But where does Elre find itself now, in a world reshaping itself along lines in which first consideration will be given to friends?

STRENGTHEN STAFF

EARLIER EXPRESSIONS OF SATISFACtion which greeted the City School Board's announced intention of lending greater emphasis to physical education will be echoed again in public response to the most recent appointments to that important department of Victoria High School. The new additions, one an Olympic performer,
and the other a young woman with an exceptionally well-rounded training in her chosen field, will add strength to the staff for the intensified program that has been planned.

It has not been easy for the school authorities to give thoroughly adequate attention to physical education during the war years. Loss of suitable staff to the services and the absorption of time in activities associated with war have placed a heavy burden on those who remained to carry on and have, to a degree, thrust general P.T. work into the background.

The acquisition of Miss Joan Langdon, outstanding Canadian swimmer of Vancouver, and of Miss Margaret A. Liffon, Victoria, should fill out the staff required for work among the girls. They should be of particular value, not only because of their abilities as instructors, but because of the personality leadership they can impart to the groups which come under them.

Until men return from the services, there may be a little difficulty in building up the masculine side of the staff to its required strength for games and sport. In the meantime, those who have been shouldering the added load will carry on.

—BY ANY OTHER NAME

CAPTURED WAR CRIMINAL HERmann Goering is reported to have mopped his brow when correspondents last week asked him what he intended to do in the way of justifying his statement that if the Allies ever bombed Berlin, "my name is Meyer."

The bemuddled blimp need not concern himself about a name change. Hermann Goering by any other name would still smell like Hermann Goering. And there are too many decent little Meyers in this world to stigmatize them by his association.

AFTER THE BIG JOB

THE PRESENT CONTRIBUTION BY Canada to the occupational troops in Germany is said to be 25,000 men backed by 15,000 reinforcements. In due course when the occupation of Germany is turned over to the Security Council of the United Nations, the numbers of Canadians employed will probably be in proportion to the numbers contributed by Canada to the International Police Force. Exactly how that police force is to be composed and in what places it will function remains to be decided by the Security Council. The rotation of service is indicated by the 15,000 reinforcements for the first 25,000. There will also be a special contingent of veteran troops to occupy Berlin
as a token force for about a month.

A new commander for the occupational forces is to be named and General Crerar who has, without a break, commanded the Canadians from the landing in France to the clean-up in Holland, is expected to retire in August on his return to Canada. He has done a magnificent job for which his countrymen are profoundly grateful. The troops under his command included several British regiments and the manner in which they combined to hold "Monty's" left flank, makes General Crerar one of the outstanding commanders of the war. The Canadians had one of the toughest of all assignments, as after sweeping through Normandy they became almost amphibious troops earning the designation of "Water Rats," which, considering the accomplishments of the 8th Army Desert Rats, was about as high an accolade as could be bestowed on any army in the field.

General Crerar led his "Water Rats" to victory. Long will they remember him and honor him for the greater leader he has proven himself to be.

UNCTUOUS PERFECTION

NOW GERMANY HAS COLLAPSED,
amid the deafening crash of the ruins of Bismarck's empire, and the clouds of dust that rise to obscure the horizons of its future, the practical necessities of European reconstruction become a hodge-podge of conflicting passions and prejudices. In our far removal from the actualities of this chaos we nevertheless experience the confusion that is inevitable among those who are its victims. If things do not seem to emerge momentarily disguised with all the trappings of law and order; if the ruthlessness of hunger, and the primitive will to live, prescribe the path of Hitler's Third Reich; if for some time there can be no other than strictly military rule, there is no reason for jumping to conclusions that the policies being followed are futile and that we shall lose the peace in winning the war.

The easiest way to lose the peace is to meander among the fertile fields of illusion.
It is pleasant to admire the beautiful flowers of conviction but not so pleasant to gather them and find they smell of nothing but prejudice. The world is not going to suffer so much from the ghostly victims of Hitler's ghastly prison camps, as it is from the living panaceas of an unctuous perfection.

The art of conversation requires one to speak and one humble enough to keep still and listen.

SAN FRANCISCO.

HIGH POLITICS AT SAN FRANCISCO

WITH M. MOLOTOV and Mr. Eden gone, we are at the end of a phase and we can begin to see more clearly what has been happening.

The death of President Roosevelt has had a profound effect on this conference.
For Roosevelt was his own Secretary of State. It was he who determined foreign policy. When he agreed to call the San Francisco Conference, and when he appointed the delegation, it was supposed that Mr. Stettinius and the Congressional leaders would confine themselves to translating the Dumbarton Oaks proposals into a charter which would be acceptable to the Senate and to the public opinion of the world. It was assumed, as a matter of course, that vital matters of foreign policy, particularly those touching the wartime alliance, would continue to be firmly in the hands of President Roosevelt, and would be handled, as in the past, with Churchill and Stalin. Nothing was further from the original intention than to commit the shaping and management of the highest issues of foreign policy to the San Francisco Conference.

Yet owing to President Roosevelt's death, this unforeseen and unintended thing has happened. As a result our delegates and their advisers, who were fairly well prepared to work out the charter, have found themselves called upon to improvise in the realm of high policy—in regard to our relations with the British Commonwealth and Empire, the Soviet Union, Pan-America, and the Far East.

THE WORK on the charter proceeds well enough. But international relations have suffered, not disastrously or irreparably,
but still they have become confused. Messrs.
Molotov, Eden, and Stettinius have a very different relationship among themselves, and to their own governments, than had Stalin, Churchill and Roosevelt. This has become quite evident here. It is most evident in the extraordinary alteration of roles which has taken place since Roosevelt's death.

While he was alive, Roosevelt kept the United States in the position of mediator and stabilizer between the British Empire and the Soviet Union. How well he maintained this position was shown by his critics, who charged him one day with being in Churchill's pocket and the next with being in Stalin's. Actually he was never in the pocket of either. He had a clear understanding of the fact that there are many real conflicts of interest between Britain and Russia, that there are no conflicts of vital interest between Britain and America, or between Russia and America, and that therefore the true American interest and policy was to conciliate, mediate, and stabilize in the zones of difficulty between the British Empire and the Russian Empire.

This, he realized, was a feasible policy for the United States because British and American security are so deeply linked, and because Russian reconstruction and her internal tranquillity are so closely connected with the power and the need of the United States to export capital goods.

BUT HERE in San Francisco the mediator position of the United States has been lost temporarily, drifted into the position where America and Russia appear to be the two great protagonists. This will have to be righted not only in the interest of Soviet-American relations but in the interest, no less, of Anglo-American relations. For they are sure to deteriorate badly if the United States becomes a partisan, rather than the detached and restraining partner, in the Anglo-Soviet difficulties which reach from the Balkans to Persia.

These are issues of high politics which cannot be dealt with successfully by improvisation in the limelight of a conference like this one, and by men so overwhelmed with the details of committee meetings, press conferences, and extraneous matters, that they cannot reflect upon them calmly and clearly.

The loss of Roosevelt has upset the delicate balance within the councils of the Big Three. The membership of this conference has aggravated the imbalance. For the European continent is under-represented here, not only in numbers as compared with the Western Hemisphere and the British nations and dependencies, but also in authority and force. France is only beginning to play the part which she is destined to play in world politics. The greater part of Europe is either not present here at all, or it is represented by provisional governments which have not yet obtained a mandate from their peoples.

YET FRANCE and the principal liberated countries of the continent have the same vital interest as the United States—to be the mediators and stabilizers between the Soviet Union and the rest of the world. This was made very clear in the vote on the Soviet request for delay in admitting Argentina. In that vote the European countries, led by M. Spaak of Belgium, made their real intention very clear. It is to bridge the differences between the Soviets and the western world. Europe had few votes that momentous day, and they could not halt the great steamroller of the American and British states. But Europe had the wisdom of the situation, and when our own foreign policy returns to the line which Roosevelt laid down for it, we shall have to turn to France and to Europe to restore the equilibrium which has been upset within the Big Three.

If free people desire some evil, why not boldly say so instead of talking about the big tax it will pay.

Letters to the Editor

PIGEONS

The statements in your correspondent's letter in regard to the good behavior of pigeons are not true. In the first place people are not in the habit of complaining without reason.

A newcomer has installed his pigeons back of my garden and I can assure you they do land in
it. They are very destructive, and their refuse splashes windows and drying clothes in the area
they circle about.

The method of shooting them off the garden is by throwing stones.

In these days of wireless, the statements about their usefulness are exaggerated. They are chiefly a hobby and should be in proper localities, not over people's gardens.

Having myself complained to the police, Mr. Alexander has nothing to fear. The pigeons can carry on.

H. WHITE,

REPLY TO MR. LUFF

Mr. Luff, in his comment
(May 9) on my letter (May 5) doesn't seem to realize that one should at least be logical in criticizing another's views. In no way does he break down my statement re Hayek. I said: "As Hayek's contention that state control leads to Fascism was correct as regards Germany but not as regards socialist Russia;
therefore, I stated: 'Hayek can be wrong.' Was it accident or design that caused Mr. Luff, in quoting me, to leave out the word 'can,' thereby changing my meaning?" Mr. Luff shows disapproval of Soviet Russia. Perhaps if Trotsky was in Stalin's place he would be much happier.
Mr. Luff's second paragraph is a gem. It needs little comment.
He states, the success of Russia
in the huge industrial machine they are building there is "with capital received from the exploitation of the privileged class."
What is one to make out of that?

Mr. Luff's hostility to the idea of socialism in one country is unjustified. Socialism, like other isms, is, in the long run, subject to the principle of evolution.
Russia did not wait on the rest of the world for her socialism,
and, although it doesn't please
Mr. Luff, Ivan certainly prefers
it to Czarism. M. E. BIRD, Patricia Bay.

MORE FEMININE CANDIDATES

So far in this federal election campaign, but one lone woman candidate has been nominated by the Progressive Conservative Party. All thinking women and many men consider this unsatisfactory. Today so many women are well informed on what constitutes good government by and for the people there is no possible excuse for this shortsighted and selfish attitude. Until women are given recognition due them, all this pious shouting about a change for good government will vanish as chaff before the wind.

Miss Spencer, giving a resume of the work for the past year, stated they had supplied 107 workers for the canteens, 28 to sew, 11 for salvage work, 80 for sorting family allowance forms, 13 for emergency shelter visitors, and hospitality work, playground supervisors and Red Cross. Taggers had been supplied to various organizations throughout the year. Miss Spencer spoke of the great need for the women volunteers to be organized for the work that will fall to them following the war and during the period of rehabilitation.

Miss Margaret Jane Macintosh, chairman of the Victoria College division of the W.V.S. gave a report on the work done by the girls in the college. She said at first it was a little difficult to organize but soon many of the girls became interested and much work was accomplished. Victoria Man Wins Speakers' Contest

In competition with speakers representative of the Bellingham, Everett and Mount Vernon toastmasters' clubs, Dr. R. J. O'Neill of the Victoria club won the area contest in Bellingham.

Dr. O'Neill's topic, "The Basis of Human Progress" was that which won him the Rose Challenge Cup in competition with representatives of Y.M.C.A. speaking clubs here last month. He will be a finalist at the district competition in Seattle in June.

Franklin McCrillis of Seattle, vice-president of Toastmasters' International, and Joseph Harms, past president of Seattle Totem Toastmasters' Club, will attend the final dinner meeting of the season of the Victoria club, which will be held in the Douglas Hotel, May 21 at 5.45.

Potato Shortage Continues Until U.S. Price Drops

Move of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board in allowing wholesalers to import potatoes from the United States will not bring potatoes into Victoria before June 1, and only then providing the price declines, one Yates Street wholesaler said today.

Hope of government action through a subsidy has died out, he said and added that wholesalers could not bring in potatoes at their present price and sell them under the Canadian ceiling.

"People will just have to go without until the price in the United States declines to a point at which we can bring them in here and sell them under the ceiling," he said. "We hope we can have them in here by June 1, but don't know."

The shortage of potatoes here has been developing for some time with wholesalers trying to procure them from anywhere in Canada last week without success. Export of potatoes to the United States, consumption by the services and some loss through disease in the Fraser Valley were reasons given for the shortage.

Dorothy Dix

Dear Dorothy Dix—A boy whom I have known since my schooldays came home not long ago on his furlough. He came to see me practically every night while he was at home and told me he loved me and wanted to marry me, but as soon as he went back to the army he wrote to me and told me that he didn't mean what he said, and that he was in love with someone else.

It has simply broken my heart, and is very mortifying, as everyone seemed to think that we were as good as married, and they are always asking me about him. Should I pretend that I never did love him, even if it hurts so bad,

B.C. Coast Vegetable Marketing Board said sales in Vancouver this winter reached 30,000 tons and added that the interior potato crop was lower than usual last year. According to the Wartime Prices Board officials, imported potatoes will be five cents a pound.

Wholesalers expect the first of the locally grown new potatoes to come to market early in June. The five-pointed figures used in flags were not originally designed as "stars," but as "mullets," the small, revolving wheels of riding spurs.

or shall I tell him how much I do love him?

BROKEN-HEARTED.

Answer—Bluff it out. Laugh it off. Don't wear your heart on your sleeve where everybody can see it bleed. When people ask you about him, just say: "Oh, we called that off. We found out in time that we just had an attack of war hysteria and that we didn't really care for each other in that way."

And for pity's sake don't write to the boy and tell him how you love him. It won't do any good. It won't bring him back to you. It will just give him a chance to show your letter around and prove to his buddies what a fascinator he is.

Government Urges Farmers to Buy Lime

British Columbia farmers were urged today by the provincial government to purchase their year's supply of lime now and store it during the summer and fall.

"The normal demand for lime has been during the months of March, April and May, at which time 75 per cent of the year's requirements are sought," the department said. "The production is on a month to month, year-around basis and there is very little storage space either at the quarries or in the hands of distributors.

"Through the co-operation of the Dominion government, the National Selective Service, Emergency Farm Labor Service and the alternative service officer in charge of conscientious objectors, it had been possible to divert certain labor to the lime quarries for the production of agricultural lime."

The only answer to the problem, the announcement said, was to have farmers buy lime now and store it for future use.

The Prices Board has set ceiling prices on both agricultural lime and ground limestone, and the B.C. department of Agriculture continues to pay a rebate of $1 per ton under regulations laid down for the guidance of the lime committee to farmers using either of these materials on their land.

In recent years, Canadian farmers have overcome a multitude of difficulties. Despite labour shortages, storm and weather hazards, they have consistently increased production, and harvested the record crops so vital to a nation at war.

They have been handicapped, by lack of proper distribution facilities, in getting produce to market, farm-fresh. Many who realize the time and labour a General Motors truck would save, look forward hopefully to the time when they are again available.

That time is coming . . .

The time when Victory signals a General Motors change-over from war to peace production . . . the time when all the experience, engineering skill and productive power now being used by General Motors to fashion tough, durable armoured vehicles, will be directed towards the production of sturdy, General Motors trucks—dependable, great-hearted trucks that will mean less work and worry, more leisure and prosperity for farmers and producers everywhere.

YUCCA PLANTS AND MOTHS CARRY OUT CLOSE PARTNERSHIP

A kind of partnership exists between certain moths and the plants known as yuccas. There are about 30 kinds of yuccas. When full grown, they may be only three or four feet high, or they may rise 40 feet above the ground. The large ones often are called "tree yuccas," and there are several kinds of these in the United States. Pollen must be spread from flower to flower if the yuccas are to bear seeds which will grow. That is where the moths come in. They spread the pollen. Bees show no interest in visiting yucca blossoms. Yucca flowers may remain open for only a single night. The moths wait for the opening, and quickly gather little balls or pellets of pollen. The female insect then carries the bit of pollen to another flower, and lays four or five eggs. Then the yucca moth, as it is called, covers the eggs with pollen.

Another kind of TREE YUCCA, (in bloom) COLORADO

If we take a common case, we find that about 200 seeds would be produced by a yucca flower. The moth eggs hatch into larvae which eat the seeds in the flower. The rest of the seeds are left to be spread about, and perhaps become new yucca plants or trees. Thus we see that the moth helps the yucca, and the yucca helps the moth. There are several kinds of yucca moths, and each kind visits a special type of yucca. The Joshua tree is an example of the yucca. It grows on deserts in southwestern parts of the United States. RACING fans in the United States are celebrating the return of their favorite sport but reopening of the tracks south of the border has brought about a real headache for British Columbia racing heads. From all accounts, Sam Randall, number one man at Vancouver and Victoria tracks, faces the most acute shortage of horses and riders since he took over the job of providing racing for the devotees in this province. B.C. racing fell upon bad days last summer but the prospects right now are even worse.

HERE is what Johnny Park, well known Vancouver racing critic, has to say: "But while the Americans are celebrating the return of horse racing, Vancouver faces its biggest shortage in history from the thoroughbred and jockey viewpoint. Sam Randall has had his troubles these past few years lining up sufficient horses and riders for the local meetings and at the moment he does not know which way to reach to try and persuade owners to ship their steeds here."

"Last summer it was generally agreed by all hands that we required at least 200 nags in training to operate 42 days here and 14 at Victoria. At the moment we have approximately 200 head, including about 50 two-year-olds. Next Wednesday and Thursday around 60 head will ship to Calgary for the spring meeting, which opens on May 24. Two-thirds of these will, no doubt, return to Vancouver, while the balance will point for Polo Park. Those in the Calgary line include some of our leading trainers, fellows like George Addison, Asah Smith and Sandy Gilmore. They will be home on June 30."

"But this still leaves Sam with the task of lining up 200 head from California, Mexico, the Middle West or what have you. During the past two days he has had his agents scout the entire state of California. To date he has the assurance of only two stables, one owned by J. G. Shriver of San Ysidro and the other by E. Dunn of San Mateo. This adds only five horses to the list available."

"It's the same story with riders. Harvey Duncan checked in the other day. A carload of seven runners also came from the south with the young apprentice, W. Bailey. By the time you read this, these horses and riders may be in Calgary. The stable intends to ship there pronto and return here for June 30. And that still leaves us short at least 200 horses for the season and a few riders to pilot them around the track. At the moment Johnny Hruschak and Ray Johnson are available with Duncan."

CASRATIONING and the tire shortage practically forced Al Schacht out of business. Unable to cover his annual 50,000-mile automobile tour to make 125 appearances in the majors and minors, Schacht opened a New York chop house and bar. With the war, however, Schacht has traveled to more distant points than ever before. No man associated with baseball, except those in the armed forces, has been around as much as Schacht. The Clown Prince of Baseball visited the North African and Italian areas in 1943, the South Pacific in 1944 and has been on the hospital-camp-war fund game circuit ever since. In peace and war the one-man act of one-time pitcher and coach has traveled close to 500,000 miles by plane, train, boat and car.

WHEN Luke Sewell, Paul Waner and Dixie Walker toured the China-Burma-India theater, they were asked a variety of questions. But the one which really astounded them was presented in the Assam Valley by Pfc. L. Leibowitz.

"Would it be possible for one man to play on both sides during a major league game?"

"Ridiculous!" replied the baseball men.

"Oh yeah?" chorled Leibowitz. "Let us say a game is started in Boston and seven innings are played when the Sunday curfew hour is reached. The game is finished a month later, by which time Boston has traded a player to the rival club. He'd be eligible, wouldn't he?" Sewell, Waner and Walker autographed a ball and tossed it to the private.

U.S. Sport Picture Bleak

Transportation Problem

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sports in the United States will be "lucky" to play out regular schedules this summer and fall unless Japan quickly folds up, relieving the burden of transportation, says Director J. Monroe Johnson of the office of defence transportation.

It already has been demonstrated in redeployment following Germany's defeat, Johnson said that the "impact on sports like everything else will be terrific."

Going over the sports situation in an interview, Johnson commented:

"There is 'no possibility' of the all-star major league baseball game being played."

The Kentucky Derby, Preakness, Belmont Stakes and other horse racing headlines will be conducted on a "trolley-car" basis.

The world series cannot be held unless both pennants are won in one city as St. Louis did last season.

Bowl football games "simply will be out of the question" along with the college all-star game in Chicago and similar contests.

All college football games must be played on the "home" field of one of the competing teams. This includes the Army-Navy game, played in Baltimore last season as a war loan feature.

"And even if Japan quits by next September, it will be about six months before we recover enough to help anybody," Johnson said. "The only hope is for the Japanese to see the light in the next six weeks or so."

Johnson's remarks struck the sports world like a bucket of cold water.

With the lifting of the ban on racing and easing of other government restrictions, athletic leaders had felt more optimistic about the future than at almost any other time during the war.

"Everything not dedicated strictly to the war will have to get out of the way and we haven't got time to argue," Johnson emphasized.

Racing in Need Of Czar to Give Public Confidence

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP)—It's always easy to spend someone else's money, or tell him how to spend it, so it is no trouble at all to urge the horse racing folks to dig down in the sock and hire themselves a first-class czar.

Racing is off to a fresh start after its four-month vacation. That it is due for prosperity surpassing even its record season of last year is almost a foregone conclusion. The public as a whole has shown it wants racing, is hungry for it.

But it wants honest racing. It doesn't want jockeys, or owners, or trainers who have been barred for shady practices at one track operating at another. When a man is suspended for life, it should be for life.

It is said there are 70-some ways a horse can lose in a race honestly. That is gamble enough without being fearful that the horse isn't being allowed to make its best effort.

A czar, a man of iron will and accepted integrity, would give the public confidence in the sport, and would make any would-be wrongdoers think twice before attempting any shenanigans. If a man connected with the game knew that if he were caught cheating he was through for life, he wouldn't try to cheat.

The czar should have all the powers that were enjoyed by the late baseball commissioner, K. M. Landis. There was no appeal from a Landis' final decision. When Landis banned a man, he stayed banned, and any ball players with larcenous leanings, knowing this, let no shadow of suspicion fall on them. Consequently, baseball has enjoyed the respect and confidence of all.

The idea is that the race bettors want to know they are getting an honest run for their dollar. They don't want to put their two bucks on a nag and, by the nag's performance, find out that the trainer just had him entered for the ride to condition him for future races.

They want to know that when a horse goes to the post it means the horse is ready to run, and that no attempt will be made to keep it from running.

Team Match Carded At Colwood Links

The annual president's and captain's team match will be played tomorrow at the Colwood Golf Club commencing at 1. The fixture will be match play with three-quarters of the difference in handicap allowed.

The annual dinner will be held in the clubhouse at 6, and will be followed by the annual meeting. The draw, with the president's team first named, follows:

C. A. Bovey vs. A. D. Macey.

S. T. McPherson vs. L. S. Stapleton.

B. Hunnings vs. A. D. Straith.

J. R. Potts vs. J. Simpson.

A. McBride vs. R. Simpson.

D. Spence vs. J. Meston.

Uttermost Travels Mile in 1:44 1-5

TORONTO (CP)—Uttermost has made it official.

Winter book favorite for the 86th running of the King's Plate, May 26, the chestnut colt by Soliel du Midi stepped to the forefront in the conditioning campaign by sizzling a mile in 1:44 1-5 in company with stablemate Fair Jester, a Kentucky Derby eligible, which went the distance in 1:45 2-5.

Uttermost, Fair Jester, Lur-eo and Paul J., all owned by H. C. Hatch, are among 42 still eligible for the classic.

Uttermost's workout was the fastest of the spring training season. The only Plate candidate outside the Hatch pair to approach the mark is Hemjohn, owned by the B Stable of Hamilton, Ont., which skipped eight furlongs in 1:46.

WINS MEDAL

Mrs. H. G. MacKenzie took medal honors in the qualifying round of the women's championship at the Uplands Golf Club Monday with an 89. Mr. R. Watson was runner-up with a 92.

Nine Straight For Brooklyn

Rookie Whips Pirates

Brooklyn again was the base capital of the United States today with the glorious bums riding blissfully on a nine-game winning streak and basking in the sports page headlines.

The team that couldn't beat the army nine at West Point in spring training had suddenly turned "killers" and hadn't lost a single contest of five played against the "toughies" from the west who were supposed to knock out their brains. They were only two lengths behind the leading New York Giants.

When the Brooks thumped the Phillies for a row, the experts warningly pointed a finger and said, "Wait until the Cards get here."

The Cards came and lost. So did the Reds, and the Pirates arrived yesterday in time to become the ninth victim. To top it off, a rookie named Leroy Pfund, who hadn't been trusted with a previous starting assignment, got the call and caught the victory spirit.

WALKER HITS WELL

Pfund was one of three rookies to make his first start in the big show yesterday and none lost. He draped a seven-hitter on Frankie Frisch's Bucs for a 4 to 1 edge with the help of Dixie Walker's triple, double and single.

Mel Ott shot a freshman at the Chicago Cubs in Bill Emmerich and got a 6 to 5 edge in 10 innings, although Emmerich wasn't around to get the credit.

Bill Voiselle relieved in the ninth, dished up a home run ball to catcher Dewey Williams but was rescued from his first loss by Nap Reyes' second round-tripper of the day and credited with his sixth decision when Phil Weintraub singled home pinch-runner Leon Treadway in the overtime frame.

The third first starter was Melvin Bosser, a 25-year-old war veteran. Taking the hill for Cincinnati against the Phillies, the discharged serviceman earned win No. 1 but had to give way to Walter Beck because of wildness in the eighth. Cincinnati won, 5 to 4.

Boston and St. Louis were not scheduled, moving up their game to make a doubleheader Wednesday and the entire American slate of four games, including the night tilt in St. Louis, was washed into future twin bills.

Pittsburgh 4, New York 1. Batteries—Roe and Bakkef; Prund and Owen.

Cincinnati 5, St. Louis 0. Batteries—Bosser, Beck and Lakeman; Kennedy, Lucier and Mancini; Pasack.

Chicago 5, Philadelphia 3. Batteries—Chapman, Vandenberg, Frim and Gillespie; Williams; Emmerich, Voiselle and Lombardi.

OTTAWA (CP)—S. Sgt. Hec Kilrea, former Ottawa and N.H.L. hockey star, has been awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for knocking off two big German tanks with bazooka hits while serving with the United States 7th Army, it was learned Monday.

Kilrea stopped the tanks in their tracks on successive days and, as the citation puts it, "by his personal heroism saved his company from peril." The hefty one-time defenceman, who saw action on the Anzio beachhead and in central Italy before going to Germany, also wears the purple heart, the combat infantryman's badge, and three battle stars.

Musgrave Comes Up With One-Hit Stand

Blowing his fast ball right past the youthful Eagles, Tommy Musgrave came up with a one-hit performance last night as the Victoria Machinery Depot checked in with a 16 to 1 triumph to open the local ball season. Despite the chilly temperature the opener attracted a fair crowd.

Musgrave was within two outs of hurling a no-hit game. After retiring the lodgemen with monotonous regularity for eight innings, Musgrave got the first batter to face him in the ninth, Pat Lamone, Eagles catcher, took his turn at the plate, had two strikes on him and then pushed a blooper back of second base for a single. Tommy retired the next batter on strikes and the game was over.

Musgrave struck out 18 to establish what may prove the season's record. The right-hander appeared in mid-season form, except that his control was a bit off with five bases on balls charged against him.

Lape run scored by the Eagles in the third inning was of the unearned variety. After Musgrave had issued successive walks to McLellan and Richards, Yardley forced the latter at second with first-sacker Babe Work coming up with a beautiful fielding play. McLellan raced to third and scored on a passed ball against catcher Reg Patterson. Three V.M.D. outfielders had a soft night with not a putout among them.

POOE FIELDING

Eagles had a bad night in the field with 12 errors charged up. Richards in centre field and Yardley at shortstop, being the worst offenders with three apiece.

'Rainbow' at Rio Big Russian Film

A picture featuring a good-looking male star, a sentimental love story, or a display of the latest fashions is ordinarily referred to somewhat disdainfully as a "women's picture."

"The Rainbow," the new Soviet film now playing at the Rio Theatre, is a "women's picture" in an altogether different sense and one that men will definitely want to see. It is a story of women's courage and nobility in the face of great hardship—of a woman who refuses to give information about the Partisans even though it means torture and death—and of other women who by their silent, determined opposition to all Nazi commands and their co-operation with the Partisans are of inestimable assistance to the Red Army.

For this film story of a temporarily-occupied Ukrainian village, whose population consists mainly of women and children, shows clearly how important the resistance of the people—the women who were left to carry on when the men joined the army or the Partisans—was to the eventual victory in Russia.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Gallant women wait for their gallant men to return from the most daring adventure of all time. The world is electrified as Tokyo is bombed by American planes led by the celebrated Lieut.-Col. (now Lieutenant-General) James H. Doolittle. This is Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's stirring production of "Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo," brought to exciting life at the Capitol Theatre today. A great cast is headed by Spencer Tracy, Van Johnson, Robert Walker, Phyllis Thaxter. It's an American story of American heroism, in moving American terms. Be sure to see "Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo," one of M-G-M's proudest productions.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRES

Despite the fact that the trend is toward willowy leading ladies, and lovely little Lois Collier stands just a shade over five feet, the Universal star expects to make big strides in filmdom.

Sometimes known as "the pin-up girl of the pup tents," Lois came to films by way of the radio, where sizes are no greater problem than a simple adjustment of the microphone. Lois has the romantic lead in "Jungle Woman," the Universal shocker that is now at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres, with Acquanetta in the title role.

CADET THEATRE

The Army Air Force tells its own story on the screen of the Cadet Theatre on Friday in "Air Force," the first factual account of the army's part in the air war over the South Pacific. It was the express wish of General "Hap" Arnold, commander of the U.S. Air Forces, that Warner Bros. made the picture.

"It Happened One Sunday" at the York Theatre, is a modern Cinderella story set in war-time Liverpool. Barbara White makes her screen debut in this picture. She plays the part of a pretty Irish girl and gives a complete natural and convincing performance. Robert Beatty is co-starred with her, and he presents a powerful characterization of a tough young merchant seaman. Marjorie Rhodes, who is fast becoming a great British character actress and whose portrayals are reminiscent of those played by the late Marie Dressler, gives an excellent performance in the leading comedy role. Here she is supported by Kathleen Harrison and a cast of well known players including: Ernest Butcher, Judy Kelly, Dame Irene Vanbrugh, Moore Marriott, Robert Adams and Charles Victor.

U.B.C. Players' Club On Tour, to Present 'Taming of Shrew'

Celebrating their 30th anniversary, the Players' Club of the University of British Columbia, which presented "The Taming of the Shrew" to crowded houses at the University Theatre for four nights during March, will leave Vancouver this week on a tour of the province. After staging three performances at the Lyric Theatre in Vancouver, they will play twice at the Royal Victoria Theatre next Saturday, before leaving for the interior.

Comments from Vancouver indicate that Victorians are in line for a real treat: Prof. Larsen, a recent honorary president of the Players' Club, writes: "I think I have never seen on the university stage a performance so lively and so vigorous as this one. The tempo was admirable, and the way the players picked up their cues was a joy to watch. Diction, staging and stage business reached the same high level of excellence." Mr. Ken Caple, a past-president of the club, and now a director of radio programs, says: "It was really a splendid show, and the club is to be congratulated on producing what I think is its best performance in its 30 years' history (and I have seen them all, with the exception of one or two)." The News Herald, March 15, reports: "The play moved at an excellent and never flagging tempo through scene after scene of comedy and pageantry, made vivid by cleverly-designed costumes and simple, effective scenery."

Since this play has a strong appeal to young and old alike, the Victoria Kinsmen Club expects that the Players' Club will play to two packed houses on Saturday. Those who enjoy clever comedy and fine acting, and have not yet purchased their tickets, should note that the box office is open.

Delegates Discuss China Office Here

Establishment in Victoria of a branch office of the National Resources Commission of China, charged with development of Chinese industries for winning the war and industrialization of the nation after the war, was discussed here during the visit of the technical committee of the commission, it was learned today.

C. Yun, general manager of the central electrical manufacturing works of the National Resources Commission, and chairman of the technical committee which visited Victoria, expressed the belief that Victoria or Vancouver was the logical location, because of its proximity to China, for an office of the commission.

The commission for some time has had an office in New York. While concerned also with studying production techniques and lining up postwar trade possibilities, the commission, it was understood, served as a purchasing agent for the Chinese government.

Represented in the group were some of China's leading industrialists.

Loyalists Mark Landing Anniversary

Ernest Heybroek, former consul-general to the Netherlands, gave an illustrated address "Manila and the Philippines" at a United Empire Loyalists meeting at the Y.W.C.A. Monday evening. He outlined the economic system of the Philippines, the nationalities found there and their products.

Roy Manzer presided at the meeting which was called to commemorate the landing in New Brunswick, May 18, 1783, of the province's Loyalists.

Rev. J. L. W. McLean, chaplain, proposed a silent tribute and gave a prayer for the late G. Hamilton Harman who had been an active member of the group. J. H. Tabor also paid tribute to Mr. Harman.

Arthur Jackman gave a solo accompanied by Mrs. F. Phillips.

Public Ownership Extension Urged By C.C.F. Candidate

"The C.C.F. stands for an extension of the tried and true principle of public ownership," said F.O. Murray D. Bryce, 27-year-old Victoria C.C.F. candidate, at his opening election rally in the Victoria High School Monday night.

"Today we have public ownership of such things as our schools, our highways, our waterworks, our postal system. Tomorrow that principle must be extended into the field of all utilities, monopolies, and the great mass-production industries."

"There are only two ways to pay for such things: One is by taxing the people you are trying to help; the other is from the profits of publicly owned industries."

Turning to local issues in his half-hour address, F.O. Bryce said that B.C. has more than a quarter of the potential hydro power in Canada, but only 7 per cent of Canada's developed hydro power. Only with cheap power will industrialization in B.C. be possible, he said.

B.C. can and must have a steel industry to use local raw materials and scrap iron, he said. And Victoria needs accommodation for the largest ships afloat.

"Only the C.C.F. advocated total mobilization and total conscription—not just of manpower but also of wealth and industry," said the Saskatchewan-born candidate amid applause from the 400 people present. "The Conservatives favored total conscription of manpower, but they were quite happy to see the war on a profit basis."

The Liberal government says that service in the Pacific theatre of war will be on a voluntary basis. "I want to lay a definite charge that such talk is dishonest pre-election propaganda. They cannot get enough volunteers and they know it."

H. O. Simpson, C.C.F. organizer for Victoria, who acted as chairman, introduced F.O. Bryce and Mrs. Dorothy Steeves, M.L.A. for North Vancouver, who also spoke.

Mrs. Steeves said that if capitalists were faced with the choice of the retention of their privileges or democracy, they would maintain their privileges and ditch democracy, precipitating fascism.

Urging the audience to break the economic blockade of Canada by voting C.C.F. on June 11, she said that full employment doesn't mean everyone must live to work, but means they must work to live.

There is hardly a civilized country that has been so callous to its helpless people as Canada has. The Rowell-Sirois report stated that Canada has the worst old-age pension act in the world, said Mrs. Steeves, and "Mackenzie King has the gall to come before the Canadian people without a social security system."

Farm production has increased two and a half times since the war began, yet farmers are worried about the export market. If the people had good nutrition they would be able to consume more and the country would have a natural market in its own people.

The Health Insurance Act of British Columbia is a dead letter on the statute books because big business says it's too expensive, she said. With the old parties the real answer is the big business dictatorship.

We want the real freedoms—freedom from want and fear, freedom to be educated and to give your best to the community. The C.C.F. is the only party which has a contribution to make for world peace.

Horace Victor Evans, 24, was found guilty of breaking and entering Tergeson Bros., 1111 Blanshard Street, and stealing eight automobile tires, valued at $136, on the night of April 10-11, by the jury in Assize Court, Monday afternoon, after they deliberated 28 minutes.

Power Commission In New Offices

The B.C. Power Commission, created at the last session of the Legislature and organized a few weeks ago with S. R. Weston as chairman, has moved into offices at 918 Government Street.

A representative of H. G. Acres and Co., consulting engineering firm of Niagara Falls, Ont., is expected here soon to assist the commission in surveying possible power development sites on Vancouver Island.

It is expected H. G. Acres himself, head of the firm which designed and supervised construction of the Shipshaw Que, plant of the Aluminum Co. of Canada, one of the largest single power projects in the world, will come here later to assist in the development of B.C. power.

V.I. Men Released

Release of still more Canadian servicemen from camps within Germany is being announced daily from Department of National Defence, Ottawa. The latest list names Flt. Lt. Gleave, son of Mrs. Ida Gleave, Meredith Road, Cobble Hill.

Claim Mishandling Of Veterans' Cases

R. McConnan, recently discharged veteran, claimed that Dominion and provincial rehabilitation organizations are "a joke" at a Junior Chamber of Commerce luncheon in Spencer's dining-room Monday.

Mr. McConnan said officials have been of little assistance to him and had not been courteous when approached. He said he had encountered many difficulties in seeking employment.

Government rehabilitation organizations, he said, are established for the handling of large numbers of veterans rather than single cases.

"It will be a major problem," said Charles Patrick, in referring to the return of thousands of veterans. He claimed there were too many rehabilitation groups in the city and suggested they combine into one strong and effective unit.

It was moved that the Junior Chamber request representation on the National Rehabilitation Board of Victoria.

Norman Foster, secretary, pointed out a central depot where returning men could obtain information concerning re-establishment and employment is now being considered.

Case of a returned man who had lost a leg was discussed. It was alleged he had been asked to accept a job carrying pipes. It had been the only employment offered him.

TRAIL CONVENTION

Directors discussed 32 resolutions which will be dealt with at a regional convention at Trail May 25-26, during their meeting in the board room Tuesday afternoon.

They concerned objectives of junior chambers throughout the province and suggestions for improvement of business. C. J. Harrington of Victoria will attend the meetings.

W. A. Pendray said many more men than the number who left the city would be returning from overseas. He suggested that those who had made their homes in Victoria before the war be given first consideration. As many as 20,000 veterans, he said, would return to the city.

Expel Japs From B.C. Oak Bay Tories Urge

Expulsion of all members of the Japanese race from British Columbia was urged Monday night in a resolution adopted by Oak Bay Progressive Conservative Association meeting at St. Mary's Hall.

Originating in Richmond Council, the resolution was forwarded to the Progressive Conservative party here by the Oak Bay Council.

"We cannot see inside the head of a Japanese," said R. A. Wootton, president, "Outwardly they may appear polite and sweet."

Capt. L. S. Daynes, secretary, added: "As far back as 1919, the British Admiralty warned what might happen if the Japanese were allowed to settle here."

General meeting of the Progressive Conservatives will be held at 8 Thursday evening at St. Mary's Hall, Mr. Wootton announced.

Election campaign headquarters have been established at 2246 Oak Bay Avenue.

Mrs. E. MacArthur and Maj. K. MacDougall were appointed delegates to a conference on penal reform to be held May 30 at the Empress Hotel. The meet will be sponsored by the Council of Social Agencies.

Wants Questionnaire On Veterans' Housing

A suggestion that the city council ask the three branches of the armed services to co-operate in circulating a questionnaire among their personnel to ascertain housing requirements has been made to Mayor Percy George by Pemberton, Holmes Ltd. in a letter received today.

Major Cuthbert Holmes, president of the firm, points out that there is no accurate knowledge as to how many houses will be needed for veterans in the area, whereas the services could readily find out.

He suggests that the questionnaire ask where the man enlisted, where he intends to live after demobilization, if he already has a home there, and if he has a job there.

Overjoyed On Release From Japs

Mr. and Mrs. Neil MacLeod and their children, Harriet and Malcolm.

"I'll never forget that first Yank, he was wonderful. I went up and flung my arms around him and was so thrilled I couldn't see straight," said Miss Mary Collis Hallows, blonde, attractive repatriate from Los Banos internment camp in the Philippines, as she stepped from the Seattle boat this morning into the waiting arms of her mother, Mrs. Francis Hallows, The Priory, Pemberton Road.

Three years of prison existence has not quelled the spirit of this girl. Previously interned in San Tomas, Manila, she did hospital work there on a starvation diet among rampant disease with but a pitiful supply of medical necessities. She herself suffered from beri beri and dysentery.

When paratroopers and guerrilla fighters attacked the camp, almost the entire military personnel was killed outright; she recalled of her dramatic escape.

Shortly after being transferred from San Tomas to Los Banos, the room she had been using at the previous camp received a direct bomb hit.

"Some luck, eh?" she said smilingly.

MACLEODS ARRIVE

On Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Neil MacLeod, with their two children, Harriet, 12, and Malcolm, 11, reached Victoria after being freed from incarceration in San Tomas prison camp in Manila.

Interned for three years, food had at all times been scarce; and the latter six months, when Japanese military authorities took over control of the camp, the food situation became intolerable. Internees, said quiet-voiced Mrs. MacLeod, received 150 grams of rice daily, and what greens they could grow around their shanties within the camp compound.

ATE WEEDS, VINES

"For food, we used weeds—anything at all," said Mrs. MacLeod.

Mirrored evidence of malnutrition were the camp's children. Thin and pale, they all suffered trouble with their teeth, due to lack of calcium and proteins. Both Harriet and Malcolm have gained 30 pounds since the family's liberation. Mr. MacLeod lost in weight, from 240 pounds to 138, and his wife lost 40 pounds.

Measles, whooping cough and dysentery were prevalent. People died from tuberculosis and malnutrition and the seven interned doctors, with the sparse medical necessities supplied through the Red Cross, did their best to cope.

Chinese Impressed With Shipyards Here

Members of the technical committee of the Chinese National Resources Commission, which spent Monday looking over industrial plants in Victoria and meeting government authorities, said before they left for the mainland that they had been impressed with the quality of work being turned out by Victoria's shipyards.

C. Yun, general manager, Central Electrical Manufacturing Works of the commission and chairman of the committee which visited Victoria, said the work of Victoria plants compare favorably with that of other plants he had visited, not only in eastern Canada, but also in the United States.

The commission has spent almost a year on this continent studying production methods to gain technical knowledge for increasing China's war output and industrializing the nation after the war.

The Parks Committee will recommend the building of a movable fastback backdrop for Central Park, costing $55, Ald. D. D. McTavish, chairman, said following the meeting Monday afternoon. This is at the request of the Lower Island Football Association. The use of Royal Athletic Park for the schools victory program June 6 was also approved by the committee.

Hart and Mayhew To Meet Mr. King

Premier John Hart, R. W. Mayhew, Victoria Liberal candidate, and Lt.-Col. Alan Chambers, D.S.O., Nanaimo Liberal candidate, will meet Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King Wednesday in Vancouver where Mr. King will launch the national Liberal campaign with a one-hour broadcast at 5 Wednesday night.

More than a dozen other Victorians representing the Victoria and Nanaimo ridings are scheduled to attend the discussions with the Prime Minister, who will arrive in Vancouver late tonight from the San Francisco World Security Conference where he led the Canadian delegation. Other representatives from up-island centres are also planning to attend the campaign opener.

Mr. Chambers arrived in Vancouver today by air from Britain, where he received the D.S.O. from King George.

Mr. King is scheduled to broadcast to the nation from the Vancouver Hotel ballroom. The meeting will be open to the public. The audience is expected to overflow into the banquet-room and the lobbies.

A rebroadcast of the Prime Minister's address will be made over CBR at 7:30 Wednesday night.

Rentals Increase Not Expected Here

Home renters in Victoria need not fear a wholesale jump in their monthly rentals owing to the increase in the mill rate, in the opinion of J. D. Gunn, rentals appraiser, Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Though the city's rate was only 37 mills in 1944 and increased to 42 mills this year, the rate in 1940, date when maximum rentals were fixed by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, was 40 mills.

"If a landlord is actually paying more taxes on the same property without improvements, owing to the increase in the mill rate, he would be entitled to make an application to increase his maximum rental, to an amount commensurate with the increase in taxes," Mr. Gunn said today.

"However, every case would have to be decided on its own merits. Supposing the assessment dropped and the mill rate increased, the taxes may be down rather than up."

He felt there might be instances where the increase in the mill rate might justify Victoria landlords in seeking higher rentals, but that the situation would not be general.

The order regarding rentals reads: "an increase in taxes or water rates payable by the landlord since the date on which the maximum rental was last fixed, and resulting otherwise than from a structural alteration, addition or improvement; in which case the rental appraiser may increase the maximum rental, by an amount which is commensurate with the amount of such increase in taxes or water rates."

U.B.C. Graduates 22 As Teachers

Two Victorians are among a group of 22 British Columbians to complete their teachers' training course at the University of British Columbia, Education Minister H. G. T. Perry announced here today.

The class was led by Phyllis M. Mikkelsen of Vancouver, who averaged 87 per cent. One returning man, Leo Minville Smith of Vancouver, is in the group. Making Class 1 standing: 80 per cent or better, were: Evelyn E. M. Bradley, Vancouver; Ellen E. Keel, New Westminster; Miss Mikkelsen and Gwendeth L. Pearson, Calgary.

In Class 2, 65 to 79 per cent, are: Raymond N. Hollins and Barbara Moresby, both of Victoria; Norma M. Brown, Charles A. Green, Margaret E. Pallot, Mary E. Paul, Gerald R. Sankey and Jean M. Thomson, all of Vancouver; Barbara E. Godfrey, Vernon; Albert M. L. Parker, New Westminster; Ralph G. Sheeley, Mission City, and Keith B. Simpson, Penikese.

Members of the group, 50 to 60 per cent, are: Ralph R. Bell, Edgar D. Boyes and Donald W. Johnston, all of Vancouver, and Edmond J. A. Paulsen, Trail.

Mr. Smith was in the second term and made class 1.

Provincial By-election Unlikely Before June 11

No decision has been reached on the calling of a provincial by-election in Rossland-Trail to fill the seat in the B.C. Legislature, vacated by H. W. Herridge, C.C.F., who resigned Saturday to contest the Kootenay West federal riding June 11.

Mr. Herridge has since been expelled from the C.C.F. party and the party's provincial executive has announced it would expel Herridge backers.

Lt.-Col. Chambers Received Award From King George

Lt.-Col. Alan Chambers, D.S.O., Liberal member from Nanaimo, back from overseas to contest the Nanaimo riding in the June 11 federal election, will arrive in Victoria Thursday.

R. W. Mayhew, M.P., said this morning that Lt.-Col. Chambers would spend today in Vancouver and would visit Pacific Command to obtain a month's release to conduct his campaign. He will remain in Vancouver Wednesday, according to Mr. Mayhew, for the visit of Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

Lt.-Col. Chambers left Prestwick, Scotland, Sunday morning, and crossed the Atlantic by plane. Continuing by air across Canada he was expected to arrive in Victoria last Monday. Bad weather caused his plane to be grounded at Armstrong and Lethbridge.

Mr. Mayhew said that he had received a telephone call from him at Lethbridge and that he had learned that Lt.-Col. Chambers had received his decoration for work in the Channel Islands. He received the award last Friday from King George at an investiture at Buckingham Palace. Mr. Mayhew said he had learned it was recommended by the British government.

Injured in a motor cycle accident recently, Lt.-Col. Chambers is walking with a cane.

Mrs. Chambers and their son, Martin, left for Vancouver last night to meet him on arrival.

Deny Britain, U.S. Ordered Yugoslavs To Evacuate Trieste

LONDON (AP) — A British spokesman today labelled as "exaggerated" reports published in London that Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia had been ordered peremptorily to withdraw his troops from Istria and the Adriatic port of Trieste.

Britain and the United States hold that Trieste should remain under Allied control until the peace conference settles its status. The spokesman said this policy had been communicated to the Yugoslav government through envoys at Belgrade in an atmosphere of frankness and friendship. He declared there was no question of a crisis or of ultimatum.

His statement was similar to one issued Saturday in Washington by Acting State Secretary Joseph Grew, who said the Yugoslav government had been informed that Trieste would be controlled by the Allied Military government until its status was settled in the orderly manner pledged by the United Nations for the solution of such problems.

In Belgrade, Edvard Kardelj, Second Vice-president of the Yugoslav government, said "certain foreigners are repeating a slander to the effect that Yugoslavians in occupying this territory wishes to place before the world a fait accompli."

Chinese Suggest Big 3 Meeting On Asiatic Mainland

CHUNGKING (AP) — The Chinese Herald, which often reflects the views of the Chinese Foreign Office, advocated today a meeting somewhere in Asia of Prime Minister Churchill, President Truman and Gen. Chiang Kai-shek.

The newspaper said such a meeting could deal with outstanding Far Eastern problems and perhaps organize a combined Allied chiefs of staff body for the war against Japan.

Landlord and Tenant Cases in Chambers

Decision was reserved in the landlord and tenant case of Hilda Baggs vs. Clayton J. Hermon before Judge Herbert H. Shandley in County Court Chambers Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Baggs brought action for possession of 712 Suffolk Street, as she wanted it for her personal residence.

The case of Peter Kolsnyk vs. W. Hall was adjourned for one week.

Kolsnyk, landlord of 431 Hillside Avenue, sought possession from his tenant, Hall, after serving notice last September for him to quit by April 30.

R. L. Tait appeared for the landlord and Joseph McKenna was defendant's counsel.

Walter Costigan, landlord, of 1388 Monterey Avenue, Oak Bay, and R. H. Oliver, his tenant, settled their case out of court.

It was unlikely the Rossland-Trail by-election would be called by Premier John Hart before the federal general election.

Extra Payments On 1943 Wheat Crop

ASSINIBOIA, Sask. (CP)—Special payment on participation certificates for the 1943 wheat crop is in the course of preparation, Agriculture Minister Gardiner announced in an election campaign speech here Monday night.

The minister did not say what amount of money would be distributed, but he reminded his audience that participation certificate payments had already been made on the 1941 and 1942 crops amounting to $60,000,000.

Mr. Gardiner added, however, that the 1943 crop had been sold at a higher figure than the $125 per bushel price paid by the Canadian Wheat Board.

Mr. Gardiner said that far more men than could be accommodated were anxious to fight in the Pacific war.

Plan Special Pay
For Pacific Service

OTTAWA (CP)—It was reliably learned here that the Cabinet will meet Wednesday to approve a scale of campaign pay for the Canadian Far East force of volunteers, and there may be an announcement Thursday.

It is understood the pay scale will increase with each six months of Pacific service, but there was no indication immediately as to the rate of the extra pay.

This would be along the lines of a British Pacific campaign program announced last fall.

Announcement recently of a reallocation and demobilization program said men destined for C.E.F. service would obtain the highest priority home for their

One Woman's Day...

By NANCY HODGES
SAN FRANCISCO.

WOMEN OF THE WORLD

I SHALL ALWAYS remember the day before V-E Day in San Francisco. Not because of any victory celebration. For there was no public rejoicing here. In fact, it was rather like being enclosed in a little vacuum of "business-as-usual" in a world of jubilation.

As this busy port is too conscious of the fighting ahead in the Pacific to stop to make "whoopie" on any grand scale.

No, why I shall always remember May 7, 1945, is because in my mind that date will be associated with the final surrender of the Nazi forces—and with my meeting a number of famous women.

AT UNION JACK CLUB

IN THE AFTERNOON I was a guest at a small tea party held at the Union Jack and Merchant Navy Club.

The tea was given in honor of Lady Halifax, who is here with her distinguished husband for the conference.

And I was doubly glad to be there that day, not only because of the guest of honor, but because the club, as its name suggests, caters to the Royal Navy and Merchant Navy personnel.

But British army men, R.A.F. Canadian and Australian Air Force men use it in large numbers.

I felt a nostalgic pang when I saw two men in the old, familiar blue and scarlet of the Royal Marines playing billiards.

'BIT OF ORL RIGHT'

WHEN I SPOKE to one about the wonderful news, he said, with a far-away look: "I wouldn't arf be a bit of orlright to be dahn arand Piccadilly Circus right now!"

And, as I couldn't be in Victoria, I cordially agreed with him. As did Lady Halifax, when I told her of his comment.

For as she and I chatted over a "spot of tea," we both agreed quite privately of course—that if we could have our choice, London would be the place in which we would prefer to observe V-E Day.

Only those who had been through the blitz and the "doodlebugs" and other horrors could approximate the real spirit of thanksgiving and celebration, we decided.

OTHER NATIONALITIES

FROM THAT eminently British gathering, I went to an international one again—as a guest—arranged at the San Francisco Business and Professional Women's club-rooms.

Only 15 were in that little coterie. Mrs. Cora Casselman, M.P., for Edmonton, only woman on Canada's delegation, and Miss Margaret Hickey, president of the U.S. Federation of B. and P.W. Clubs, were our hostesses.

But the guests were representative of almost all parts of the world. China, Australia, Canada, Brazil, Uruguay, Venezuela and, of course, the United States.

CHINESE EDUCATIONIST

GENTLE, SCHOLARLY Dr. Wu Yi-fang, one of China's accredited delegates to the conference, charmed everyone.

President of the famous Gin-Ling College for Girls, she told us in flawless, but not pedantic, English something of what war had meant to that institution.

The original college was in Nanking. But when the Japanese commandant commandeered it for his headquarters, she and her staff and many of the students trekked to Western China.

And at Chengtu, west of China's new capital, Chungking, they started up again. And today there are 300 girl students, taking courses in the liberal arts and sciences.

AUSTRALIAN VIEWS

MRS. JESSIE STREET, of the Australian delegation, startled us with her statement that, until a year or so ago, Australian law arbitrarily set a woman's wage rate at 54 per cent of a man's.

That was in the industrial field, of course. But the war opened the eyes of the unions as to what a threat this constituted to the general wage structure.

So, after a year of study, the government established the payment of women in relation to their production.

Today, if a woman produces only 60 per cent of a man doing the same job, she gets paid 60 per cent of his wages.

At which I asked whether she would be paid 120 per cent if she produced 120 per cent as much as the man? Only to be told, "No. It didn't work out that way!"

WOMAN DIPLOMAT

MRS. RUTH BRYAN ROHDE of New York, daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan, was another fellow-guest.

One of the first women elected to the U.S. Congress, she was also the first appointed to a diplomatic post, being U.S. Minister to Denmark from 1933 to 1937.

Several charming Latin-American guests were also with us. And the most dynamic was Dr. Bertha Lutz, one of the Brazilian government delegates.

This eminent scientist came fired with the hope that she could bring about the fuller participation of women in the key positions in the international bodies to be set up.

However, she has been "bitterly disillusioned," to quote her own words.

For neither the American nor British women delegates see eye to eye with her in this, she alleges.

So only time will tell whether the Uncio will bring recognition to women's claim to a greater share in the building of a lasting peace.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—Buying continued notably selective in today's stock market and, while motors led assorted peace-favored issues on a good advance, dealings were among the slowest of the last month or so, with many pivots unable to emerge from losing territory.
